Really exceeded my expectations. Well run, interesting keynote speaker. Very good to see how others presented their work and learn from this.

Well organised event, with many interesting presentations. It made me wonder if I could help change some of the practices in my own hospital.

Really good to see all the amazing work that the foundation doctors do even with very busy clinical roles. I find it very inspiring.

#NFDPD

Up to two applications may be submitted per presenting author. Foundation doctors will only be allowed to deliver one presentation should their abstract be successful. Applications describing work in progress are eligible but should not relate to work during medical school (including during intercalated degree projects or elective projects). One presenter is guaranteed for successful applications; additional presenters can register as space allows.
